

12th Annual NG9-1-1 Honor Awards Gala Celebrated Heroes and Leaders in 9-1-1

Tuesday, February 24, 2015 was a special night in the Foyer of the Rayburn House Office Building on Capitol Hill as the NG9-1-1 Institute, a not-for-profit 501(c)(3) organization providing administrative and policy support to the Congressional NextGen 9-1-1 Caucus, honored the following 9-1-1 leaders and heroes from across the United States:

- SNOPAC Everett, Wash., Represented by Kurt Mills, receiving the NG9-1-1 Public-Private Partnership Award
- Denco Area 9-1-1 District, Lewisville, Texas, Represented by Mark Payne, receiving the Outstanding 9-1-1 Call Center/Program Award
- Patti Davis/National Public Education Forum, Abilene, Texas, receiving the NG9-1-1 Awareness Award
- David Furth/Federal Communications Commission, Washington, DC, receiving the Government Leader Award
- Angelia Dodd (Forth Worth Police), Fort Worth, Texas, receiving the “Citizen in Action”/First Responder Award
- Hank Hunt, (Private Citizen), receiving the “Carla Anderson – Heart of 9-1-1” Advocacy Award

In addition, the participants heard from Commissioner Ajit Pai, of the Federal Communications Commission.

Congratulations to all the Award Recipients and mark your calendars for the 2016 Gala, on Tuesday, February 23.

The NG911 Honor Awards Gala is a widely attended public event. Congressional staff, the general public, public safety professionals, and press are welcome. The NG911 Institute takes no positions on legislation or regulation. Rather, it's a neutral platform where thought leaders educate, discuss, and debate important public safety and NG9-1-1 issues. For more information, please contact NG9-1-1 Executive Director, Kim Robert Scovill, Esq.,

ExecutiveDirector@ng911institute.org.